Forecast for Wednesday 25 Jan 2023

Weather: A band of low cloud and rain, with some heavy bursts, will push in from the northwest during the early hours, this mostly clearing to the south by dawn. Behind there will be much clearer conditions with scattered showers. These showers will fall as snow above 800m from around mid-morning onwards. Showers easing during the afternoon.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: Very low during the early hours but good outside of showers later, chances improving through the day as showers ease.

Low Cloud and visibility: Poor at first in rain band but otherwise good, moderate in showers.
